HEAVY ON GRAND BANK.

Gloucester Bankers Reach St. John's Damaged by Storm

MORE DISASTERS ARE FEARED.

Former Gloucester Vessel Rescues Whole Crew.

The severe storm of Thursday was very heavy on the Grand Bank and already news has been received of fishing vessels being damaged by its fury and being forced to put into Newfoundland ports for repairs.

A St. John's, N. F., dispatch states that the Gloucester schooners Henry M. Stanley and Horace B. Parker, are there and the Landseer and Aerolite are at Bay of Bulls, having been forced into harbor by a hurricane on the Grand banks. They lost trawls and fishing gear and sustained considerable other damage. They report many mishaps among the fleet.

Three Newfoundland bank fishermen parted their cables and went adrift and it is feared crippled badly many of the other vessels. The damaged craft are expected to arrive here within the next few days.

FIND NINE-FOOT SHARK.

Provincetown Fishermen Take Fish With Leech on His Back.

A dispatch from Provincetown says: Charles Williams and William Francis started Saturday in pursuit of a great fish, supposedly a swordfish, that appeared near the harbor front beach. The pursued led the pursuers a merry chase of an hour before the dorymen could get within darting length. Then ensued a half-hour fight, terminating in the death of the creature, which turned out to be a nine-foot shark of a species unknown to fishermen at the East End. The shark's back is light gray in color; all the rest of the body is snowy white.

Attached to the back of the shark was a young suckling fish (genus Remora) about six inches long. The shark will be shipped to some city for classification; the sucking fish has been placed in alcohol for preservation in a local curio cabinet.

NEW FISHING STEAMER.

Andrew Wheeler To Build Gasoline Craft for J. E. Stanwood.

Mr. Andrew Wheeler, the boat builder of Wheeler's Point, has recently completed a model for a gasoline fishing steamer and will soon begin to build a craft off those lines for Mr. J. E. Stanwood of Annisquam Point.

The model is for a craft about as large as the Water Witch and will be used in shore fishing about Ipswich Bay, Boston Bay and adjacent waters. It is designed to produce a speedy craft as well as one of good carrying capacity.

Capt. Stanwood or "Bunker" as he is more familiarly called, is a well known fisherman and his friends hope that he will meet with success in his new craft.

The motor power of the new craft will be furnished by a 16 horse power Murray & Tre-gurthier gasoline engine.
